FAIR PRICE FOR PROPOSED MAGNITITE ARCS $40 A YEAR

Thomas Blewitt, Gives Electric Investigation Committee Valuable Tips.

Should Continue.

Thomas Blewitt, a citizen and taxpayer, appeared before the special mmittee named to investigate the United Riuminating Company, at the peeting of the committee in City Hall Mr. Blewitt is a man of large experience in electric affairs. He opposed the acceptance of the offer of the United Illuminating Company upon the ground that the price was much too high and he favored a continuance of the investigation.

Mr. Blewitt informed the committee that it is probable, if a charter could be assured to the company with which he is connected, that they will offer to furnish are lights at $40 per year of a like type and power to the magnifite

The attitude of the committee was at first a little hostile to Mr. Blewitt, but after it appeared that he was thoroughly informed and desired to nesist the committee to information it mesist the committee to information it might not otherwise attain, the atmosphere cleared a little.

Mr. Blewitt's questions brought out the fact that the committee has not gone to any extent into the cost of manufacturing electricity at the plant of the United Bluminating Company, and has very little knowledge of the company's producing costs, except for company's producing costs, except for the figures furnished in the statement by President James English, which are not regarded as of high author-

Mr. Blewitt also said that the determination of costs would be a comparatively simple matter, if two competent men should enter the company's plant and remain there a sufficient time, and if the company's own books and reports were consulted.

Chairman David S. Day appeared to be the only member of the committee who believed that the proposal of the company to furnish magnitude lights at $73 is a good proposition for the city.

Lynn W. Wilson who was before the committee for the purpose of introducing Mr. Blewitt, was asked by Chairman Day whether he favored a continuance of the investigation at a cost to the taxpayers, or whether he favored the acceptance of the company's

Mr. Wilson replied: "The committee was instructed by the council to investigate the cost of producing electricity. This it has attempted to do to the extent that it has received from Mr. James English a statement that certainly needs explanation. I believe that the investigation should be pubthat the investigation should be publicly continued. That the books and papers of the company should be brought in, and its coal consumption, wattmeter records and labor costs ascertained. Then and not until then the city will be in a position to make an intelligent bargain."

Mr. Wilson said that no conclusions not arrived at by public and full incompany that the conclusions are arrived at by public and full incompany.

Alderman Bullard made remarks which tended to convey the impression that at least a portion of the committee believe that the investigation has all addy pruce facts upon which the did not enderse it the policy of the company. Chairman Day presented the proposition from the United Illuminating Co. as signed by Judge A. B. Beers, counsel for the company, to reduce the lighting costs $\frac{3}{5}$ per lamp. The other members of the committee were dublous about endoring it and did not endorse it. They were of the opinion that the ubiquitous black man was lurking somewhefe in woodpile. Alderman Bullard and Elmer S. Havens of the committee declared that the investigation should go on. Alderman Bullard said there had been a change in the attitude of the electric light company which had appeared at the initial hearting of the committee with the statement that the cost of electricity was such that the commany was making about $370 a year on all its street lighting. Blewitt explain-ed that his duties were to test out wly erected electric power plants ad determine the cost of production. It was his business to estimate the cost of electricity and very often the payment of the cost of the construction of big plants depended on his reports. He told the committee that he had tried out all kinds of plants in every section of the country, Mexico and Canada. He said that the cost of electricity had been reduced by one-half in the last 10 and 15 years. Asked what he thought the city should pay for arc lamps in Bridgeport he replied, "forty dollars."

Chairman Day wanted to know if he would submit the proposition in writing. Mr. Blewett said that he could do so in about two weeks, but he did not know what he could do if he could

He said that it would be easy to deceive anyone as to cost if a 1,000 horsepower generator was kept in operation at a time when a 250 horsepower machine would do the work. He said that the cost should be figured out down to the cost of every gallon of water and every pound of coal used.

Albert E. Winchester, general super-intendent of the South Norwalk mu-

The committee went into executive session and it was decided not to do anything with the proposition of the United Illuminating Co., but to hold another meeting within a short time and to draft a report which will be sent to the board of aldermen.

If we continue to investigate and bring the books of the company in here we may be able to prove that this company is making an abnormal profit."

Alderman Bullard settled all doubt as to the identity of Mr. Blewitt when he asked him to name some of the concerns by which he is employed. Mr. Blewitt named a half dozen concerns which were recognized by Engineer Winehester of the South Norwalk municipal lighting plant, Mr. Havens and Mr. Bullard as being the best known in their line in the country.
